Mental Health Court Solicitation Questions:
ABOUT OJP

Since 1984 the U.S. Department of Justice’s (DOJ) Office of Justice Programs (OJP) has provided federal leadership in developing the nation’s capacity to prevent and control crime, improve the criminal and juvenile justice systems, increase knowledge about crime and related issues, and assist crime victims. Through the programs developed and funded by its bureaus and offices, OJP works to form partnerships among federal, state, and local government officials to control drug abuse and trafficking; reduce and prevent crime; rehabilitate neighborhoods; improve the administration of justice in America; meet the needs of crime victims; and address problems such as gang violence, prison crowding, juvenile crime, and white collar crime. OJP’s senior management team—comprised of the Assistant Attorney General, the Deputy Assistant Attorney Generals, and the five bureau heads—works together with dedicated managers and line staff to carry out this mission.

ABOUT BJA

The Bureau of Justice Assistance (BJA), Office of Justice Programs, U.S. Department of Justice, supports law enforcement, courts, corrections, treatment, victim services, technology, and prevention initiatives that strengthen the nation’s criminal justice system. BJA provides leadership, services, and funding to America’s communities by emphasizing local control; building relationships in the field; developing collaborations and partnerships; promoting capacity building through planning; streamlining the administration of grants; increasing training and technical assistance; creating accountability of projects; encouraging innovation; and ultimately communicating the value of justice efforts to decision makers at every level.

ABOUT THE MENTAL HEALTH COURTS PROGRAM

The Mental Health Courts Program (42 U.S.C. 3796ii) helps improve the social functioning of qualified offenders with mental illness, mental retardation, or co-occurring mental illness and substance abuse disorders through treatment, supervision, stable employment, housing, and support services.

BJA is issuing a call for concept papers from state, local, or tribal governments, including courts, to fund one additional mental health court demonstration project that reflects innovative and collaborative efforts for systemwide court improvements for offenders with mental disabilities or illnesses. The successful applicant will be asked to submit a more detailed application, including a complete budget and budget narrative, time and task plan, and letters of support.

BJA is supported in this effort by its technical assistance provider, the Council of State Governments. For more information, visit www.ojp.usdoj.gov/BJA/grant/mentalhealth.html.

One award in the amount of $150,000 will be made for up to 24 months.

Eligible applicants include state, local, and tribal government agencies, including courts.
