Application Deadline: 11:59 p.m. eastern time on October 4, 2019

The U.S. Department of Justice (DOJ), Office of Justice Programs (OJP) Bureau of Justice Assistance (BJA) is seeking applications for funding An Academic-based Training Initiative to Improve Police Responses for People with Mental Illness and Intellectual and Developmental Disabilities. This program furthers the Department’s mission by providing training and technical assistance (TTA) to law enforcement and other criminal justice agencies and their behavioral health service partners to improve responses and reduce crime and recidivism associated with people who have mental illnesses and intellectual and developmental disabilities.

This solicitation incorporates the OJP Grant Application Resource Guide by reference. It provides guidance to applicants on how to prepare and submit applications for funding to OJP. If this solicitation expressly modifies any provision in the OJP Grant Application Resource Guide, the applicant is to follow the guidelines in this solicitation as to that provision.

Eligibility (Who may apply):
Eligible applicants are public or private academic organizations, nonprofit academic organizations (including tribal nonprofit organizations), and public universities and colleges (including tribal institutions of higher education).

Academic-based applicants must demonstrate experience working in a law enforcement training environment and with local governments, law enforcement agencies, state and county mental and behavioral health systems, organizations serving people with mental illness and intellectual and developmental disabilities, and criminal justice systems. Applicants must exhibit an understanding of such systems and organizations, their operation, organizational structure, culture, and environment.
All recipients and subrecipients (including any for-profit organization) must forgo any profit or management fee.

BJA will consider applications under which two or more entities would carry out the federal award; however, only one entity may be the applicant. Any others must be proposed as subrecipients (subgrantees). The applicant must be the entity that would have primary responsibility for carrying out the award, including administering the funding and managing the entire project. Under this solicitation, only one application by any particular applicant entity will be considered. An entity may, however, be proposed as a subrecipient (subgrantee) in more than one application. For additional information on subawards, see the OJP Grant Application Resource Guide.

BJA may elect to fund applications submitted under this FY 2019 solicitation in future fiscal years, dependent on, among other considerations, the merit of the applications and on the availability of appropriations.

An Academic-based Training Initiative to Improve Police Responses for People with Mental Illness and Intellectual and Developmental Disabilities
CFDA # 16.738

A. Program Description

Overview
Law enforcement officers routinely are the first responders to incidents involving people with mental illness (MI)\(^1\) and, notably, up to 10 percent of calls for service involve someone with a severe mental illness.\(^2\) Additionally, it is estimated that 87 percent more resources are used for calls for service involving a person with MI.\(^3\) It is also estimated that 1 in 4 jail inmates and 1 in 7 state and federal prisoners met the threshold for serious psychological distress (SPD) compared to 1 in 19 persons in the general U.S. general population, and females held in prisons or jails were more likely than males to have met the threshold for SPD or to have a history of mental health problems.\(^4\)

People with intellectual and developmental disabilities (IDD) can present to law enforcement officers as people with signs and symptoms of MI, but may be more accurately described as people who have IDD or both MI and IDD. People who have IDD may require different responses by law enforcement officers and may have different service needs, and they can be both perpetrators and victims. The rate of violent victimization against people with disabilities was 2.5 times higher than those without disabilities.\(^5\) Therefore, increasing and enhancing law enforcement capacity to appropriately respond to incidents involving people with MI and IDD can reduce the frequency of officer and subject injury. As such, BJA seeks to provide grant funding to create An Academic-based Training Initiative to Improve Police-Based Responses to People with Mental Illness and Intellectual and Developmental Disabilities.

Statutory Authority: Funding is authorized under the Consolidated Appropriations Act, 2019, Pub. L. No. 116-6, 133 Stat 13, 112.

Program-specific Information
This initiative focuses on developing academic-based, transdisciplinary crisis intervention training to educate, train, and prepare law enforcement officers so that they are equipped to appropriately interact with people who have MI and IDD in the course of completing their job responsibilities. This training should be developed by an institution of higher education, in conjunction with health care professionals, to provide crisis intervention training that will focus on understanding mental and behavioral health, developing empathy, navigating community resources, and de-escalation skills and practical application training of those skills for all first responders. This grant program will serve as a pilot program, establishing best practices for law enforcement agencies.

Note: Applicants must collaborate with other BJA cooperative agreement recipients in order to better service the training needs of local communities; they are expected to coordinate and collaborate only after awards have been made.

Objectives and Deliverables
The overall purpose of the academic-based training initiative is to enhance and increase crisis training and support to states, tribes, and county and local jurisdictions through a pilot program.

Applicants must describe how they will build upon and enhance BJA’s existing resource, Effective Community Responses to Mental Health Crises: A National Curriculum for Law Enforcement Based on Best Practices from CIT Programs Nationwide, and its companion Instructor Guide.6 This curriculum for law enforcement provides trainees with a 5-day, 40-hour training that covers 26 modules of varying lengths for a variety of learning styles. It is modeled after the academic-based Memphis Model Crisis Intervention Team (CIT) approach, with the expanded capability to be customizable to local community resources and needs.

Objective: Develop, enhance, and implement crisis intervention team/crisis response training for law enforcement and first responders that is based in academia and transdisciplinary.

Deliverables and Activities:
1. Gather best practices available in coordinated crisis response and identify areas of further development to grow the number of available tools and products for criminal justice agencies and their mental and behavioral health provider partners.

2. Convene law enforcement stakeholder organizations to explore best practices in co- responder and multilayered approaches that build on CIT.

4. Ensure the enhanced curriculum and its companion instructor guide are designed to prepare law enforcement officers and other first responders so that they are equipped to appropriately interact with people with MI and IDD in the course of completing their job responsibilities.

5. The curriculum should be developed in conjunction with health care professionals and, at a minimum, should focus on the following elements: understanding mental and behavioral health, developing empathy, navigating community resources, and de-escalation skills and practical application of those skills.

6. Work with BJA to select law enforcement agencies to receive this academic-based training.

7. Conduct significant strategic planning with participating law enforcement agencies to assist them in planning, developing, and implementing academic-based, comprehensive CIT training and associated policies and practices. Additionally, provide assistance to these agencies to identify and secure the participation of collaborating partners such as mental and behavioral health providers, housing, and wraparound service agencies to ensure that multiagency, existing policies and procedures are reviewed and modified as appropriate.

8. Leverage state and local academic partnerships to further increase the availability and accessibility of training, including distance learning, adult learning, and technology solutions, to reach rural areas.

9. Should the provider develop a website or webpage for the training program, it will ensure the website/page is regularly updated and managed. The provider will ensure that the website/page meets all necessary parameters to allow it to be migrated over to BJA or another entity, per BJA’s instructions, should this become necessary. Additionally, the provider will be required to provide webpage content for use on BJA’s National Training and Technical Assistance Center (NTTAC)’s website. For existing program page examples, visit NTTAC’s website at: www.bjatraining.org/justice-topics/overview.

10. Conduct evaluations of all trainings and technical assistance prior to delivery (pre-tests) and immediately following delivery, to gauge their impact, as well as 90 days after TTA delivery. The evaluations must be analyzed, and major findings must be discussed with BJA to inform the program of any needed modifications.

11. Provide monthly written updates to BJA on the following, in addition to the required performance measures in Appendix A:
   - Number of trainings held
   - Number of law enforcement officers trained
   - Number, type, and names of agencies represented in training
   - Number of future trainings scheduled and locations
   - Number of pending requests for trainings
   - Number of hits on the program’s website
   - Quotes and testimonials from class evaluations and 90-day surveys
   - List of completed trainings with date, location, type of training, and number of attendees
   - List of agencies requesting training, and type of training requested
   - Written analysis of geographic locations that should be targeted for possible training, with justification/explanation

12. Include activities to market and increase awareness about the BJA Police-Mental Health Collaboration Toolkit and other BJA products for law enforcement agencies that advance crisis response. See https://pmhctoolkit.bja.gov/ to learn about the toolkit.

13. Complete any additional ad hoc tasks/deliverables requested or deemed necessary by BJA to address topics related to law enforcement/mental and behavioral health safety strategies. The applicant may set aside a conservative amount in its budget to be used for these activities, or it may be required to coordinate with BJA and receive approval to re-allocate its funding.
14. The provider will be required to work closely with BJA and request approval of milestone activities prior to the development of publications, materials, guides, etc. The provider will also be required to participate in scheduled conference calls (twice monthly) with BJA to coordinate all activities being performed under the program.

15. Additionally, applicants must address the following requirements:

   (a) The selected applicant must have the capacity and resources to perform at a national level.

   (b) The selected applicant will be responsible for managing and supporting training with law enforcement and county organizations to implement the above-listed deliverables. Additionally, the training provider should factor in that approval requests for each training must be submitted 120 days prior to the proposed training delivery date.

   (c) All developed training and resources will be subject to BJA review, and possible peer review, prior to being approved for delivery.

The objective and deliverables are directly related to the performance measures that demonstrate the results of the work completed, as set out in Section D. Application and Submission Information, under "Program Narrative."

Evidence-Based Programs or Practices
OJP strongly emphasizes the use of data and evidence in policy making and program development in criminal justice, juvenile justice, and crime victim services. For additional information and resources on evidence-based programs or practices, see the OJP Grant Application Resource Guide.

Information Regarding Potential Evaluation of Programs and Activities
Applicants should note that OJP may conduct or support an evaluation of the programs and activities funded under this solicitation. For additional information, see the OJP Grant Application Resource Guide section titled Information Regarding Potential Evaluation of Programs and Activities.

B. Federal Award Information

BJA expects that it will make one award of up to $2,254,000. BJA expects to make the award for a 36-month period of performance, to begin on January 1, 2020.

Maximum number of awards BJA expects to make 1
Estimated maximum dollar amount for each award up to $2,254,000
Total amount anticipated to be awarded under solicitation $2,254,000
Period of performance start date January 1, 2020
Period of performance duration 36 Months

BJA may, in certain cases, provide additional funding in future years to awards made under this solicitation, through continuation awards. In making decisions regarding continuation awards, OJP will consider, among other factors, the availability of appropriations, when the program or project was last competed, OJP’s strategic priorities, and OJP's assessment of both the management of the award (for example, timeliness and quality of progress reports), and the progress of the work funded under the award.

All awards are subject to the availability of appropriated funds, and to any modifications or additional requirements that may be imposed by law.

Type of Award
BJA expects to make any award under this solicitation in the form of a cooperative agreement, which is a type of award that provides for OJP to have substantial involvement in carrying out award activities. See the “Administrative, National Policy, and Other Legal Requirements” section of the OJP Grant Application Resource Guide for important statutes, regulations, and award conditions that apply to many (or in some cases, all) OJP grants (and cooperative agreements).

Cooperative agreements include a condition in the award document that sets out the nature of the “substantial federal involvement” in carrying out the award and program. Generally stated, under OJP cooperative agreement awards, responsibility for the day-to-day conduct of the funded project rests with the recipient. OJP, however, may have substantial involvement in matters such as substantive coordination of technical efforts and site selection as well as review and approval of project work plans, research designs, data collection instruments, and major project-generated materials. In addition, OJP often indicates in the award terms and conditions that it may redirect the project if necessary.

In addition to an award condition that sets out the nature of the anticipated “substantial federal involvement” in the award, cooperative agreements awarded by OJP include an award condition that requires specific reporting in connection with conferences, meetings, retreats, seminars, symposia, training activities, or similar events funded under the award.

Financial Management and System of Internal Controls
Award recipients and subrecipients (including recipients or subrecipients that are pass-through entities) must, as described in the Part 200 Uniform Requirements7 as set out at 2 C.F.R. 200.303, comply with standards for financial and program management. See the OJP Grant Application Resource Guide for additional information.

Budget Information
For questions pertaining to budget and examples of allowable and unallowable costs, see the DOJ Grants Financial Guide at https://ojp.gov/financialguide/DOJ/index.htm.

Cost Sharing or Matching Requirement
This solicitation does not require a match. However, if a successful application proposes a voluntary match amount, and OJP approves the budget, the total match amount incorporated into the approved budget becomes mandatory and subject to audit.

Pre-agreement Costs (also known as Pre-award Costs)
Pre-agreement costs are costs incurred by the applicant prior to the start date of the period of performance of the federal award.

OJP does not typically approve pre-agreement costs; an applicant must request and obtain the prior written approval of OJP for all such costs. All such costs incurred prior to award and prior to approval of the costs are incurred at the sole risk of the applicant. (Generally, no applicant should incur project costs before submitting an application requesting federal funding for those costs.) Should there be extenuating circumstances that make it appropriate for OJP to consider approving pre-agreement costs, the applicant may contact the point of contact listed on the title page of this solicitation for the requirements concerning written requests for approval. If approved in advance by OJP, award funds may be used for pre-agreement costs, consistent with the recipient’s approved budget and applicable cost principles. See the section on Costs Requiring Prior Approval in the DOJ Grants Financial Guide (Post-award Requirements) at https://ojp.gov/financialguide/DOJ/index.htm for more information.

Limitation on Use of Award Funds for Employee Compensation; Waiver
For applicants seeking the waiver, see the OJP Grant Application Resource Guide for information.

Prior Approval, Planning, and Reporting of Conference/Meeting/Training Costs
OJP strongly encourages every applicant that proposes to use award funds for any conference-, meeting-, or training-related activity (or similar event) to review carefully—before submitting an application—the OJP and DOJ policy and guidance on approval, planning, and reporting of such events. See the OJP Grant Application Resource Guide for information.

Costs Associated with Language Assistance (if applicable)
See the OJP Grant Application Resource Guide for information on costs associated with language assistance that may be allowable.
